

Big Potential for Small and Midsize Businesses:

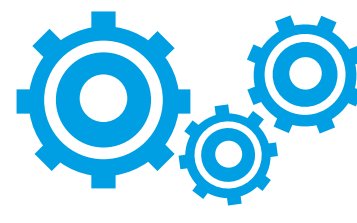

See how the right technology and managed services can help you make the most of your opportunities

Small and midsize businesses are in a unique position—opportunities abound as consumers' preferences evolve and remote work becomes the norm. But you can only take advantage of the opportunities if you're effectively utilizing your technology. That's where things get tricky.

Hurdles to Achieving IT Outcomes

The average SMB IT team has only 1.5 FTEs: not enough staff resources to manage evolving IT

SMB IT leaders spend 80% of their time on maintenance and support issues, with little time to innovate.*

Make the Most of Your Opportunities

The solution to making the most of your business opportunities is two-fold:

The right IT solutions to support your evolving needs

Professionals to ensure you're getting the most out of your IT investments
